

I appreciate that he did put an effort but every time that I wanted to have a meeting, and I sent it a week in advance we were not able to meet. For example, they would let me know last minute that I can meet during time, but I cannot put that on agenda. I have not gone through all the steps that I need to take. We had an emergency meeting but for that needed 24 hours in advance notice. I cannot have an emergency meeting in an hour. If it were that way, this would have been easy. We would meet whenever I ran into him at a bus stop or something but there is a process for everything which held us back. I understand his frustration because he ended up receiving the mail, but I did get the chance to talk to him. It was not about his performance because he was extremely helpful but our schedules did not align.

M. Castillo asks why we would be removing people from the committee if it is not working then there are other avenues to get club funding approved. We can have discussions then move up to action for the Board of Directors to decide. There are alternative methods. This has happened before when we have a committee that is not able to convene and do business, so we move that business

M. Maamou states if we were able to have this committee early on last semester, then it would have been possible because as I am interviewing them, I could have asked them if they would be able to meet every other week. We would have been able to set up a meeting that is going to happen every other week, one way or another. They joined a couple of weeks ago, so there was no time to do that.

M. Castillo asks how long have the club funding requests been in there? They have only been a part of the committee for two weeks. We are operating under the assumption that you do not have a committee who can approve them when they've could have been approved before they have even joined the committee. It does come across as an outsider looking in as punishment for not having joined last semester to have set a standard. We would not penalize anybody if these funding requests were sent.

could not let Haris and Nolan meet because they are not comfortable with the BaySync and how to go through them. I had to explain the policy was are

N. Calara answered started working with James and Martin. With me and James, we were able to exchange our availability and we were able to let him know that I was available for that time. I have been responsive to his emails, and I was able to collaborate with him.
