Free

Thursday,

December 11, 2008

Serving California State University, East Bay and Surrounding Communities

Ha e M :

Sean Penn is touching as Harvey Milk.

See page 2.

Bac F da :

Retail sales may make or break businesses this year.

See page 3.

S e Sea :

How to get through the holidays with a semblance of sanity.

See page 5.

Dec 12,13

"Pan and Wendy"

7 p.m.

$8 gen./ $6 youth, senior/ $4

CSUEB students/ $20 family

Dec. 26-Jan. 3

Campus Closed

Season's Greetings from
The Staff of the Cal State East Bay Pioneer

Featuring

Inside This Issue:

- Editorial.....4
- News..... 3, 6, 8
- A&E.....2
- Features.....5
- Movies.....6
- Campus.....7
- Classified Ads.....7

Bac b a d Bac !

What to do to avoid hair-pulling next time the system fails -- trust us, it will . . .

See page 4.

C Zad A a A ac : Comic hero fights opponents of the church. P /Courtesy

See C Zade , page 6.

G d . E : Morales' comic protagonist gets super powers from religious relics. P /Courtesy

B U a Ra e a d W a Ma d ad

Staff Writers

G e c : Alpha Phi helped Uhuru with its holiday pies. P /William Maldonado

B S e e D P a

Metro Editor

See Da ce , page 8.

Ec ec ca E ec c: The troupe is so popular, nearly 30 people applied for six slots. P /Rhonda Allen-Roberts

See Deba e, page 8.

"Directing a forensics team entails literally hundreds of hours for the director in research, student contact (coaching) and tournament travel"